SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, July 28.—The 1st Infantry Club was the scene of a brilliant reception and dance on last Friday evening, the event being in the nature of a farewell to Gen. and Mrs. Henry Hodges, Miss Evelyn Hodges and the other members of the regiment who were home going passengers on the transport Sherman when she sailed on Saturday morning. The 1st Infantry is noted for its hospitality and always when they entertain a large crowd gathers at their clubhouse, sure of an unusually good time. Friday evening was no exception, as was evidenced by the large number of guests who came to pay their respects to those departing for the States. Gen. Hodges and his family have made many warm friends at Schofield and great regret is felt at their departure. The club and pavilion were charmingly decorated on Friday evening. In the center of the latter stood a huge haw tree, the base of which was banked with lilies. Quantities of the same flower were also used most effectively in all the corners and entwined about the pillars. The clubhouse was also in gala attire, with ferns and potted plants in every available space. But loveliest of all was the supper table. In the center was a perfectly modeled transport Sherman, in miniature, with even the red, white and blue band around the funnel, tugging at her hawsers and looking as though she might get up steam and sail gallily away at any moment. Among those who attended this most delightful affair were Gen. and Mrs. Charles G. Treat, Gen. and

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lyon of Washington, D. C., arrived from the States on July 18 and will be the house-guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. and Mrs. Jacob L. Devers for several weeks.

Mrs. Archibald Arnold entertained delightfully at luncheon on Thursday afternoon, when her guests included Mrs. Conger Pratt, Mrs. James Chaney, Mrs. David C. C. Garrison, Miss Peters, and Miss Hazel Nelson.

Lieut. Harold Rayner gave a large and beautifully appointed dinner at the Halewa hotel one evening last week for about fifty covers. The tables were most attractive, each having a low centerpiece of red hibiscus and red shaded candles. At each lady's place were pretty leis and the gentlemen had boutonnières of gardenias. After dinner dancing on the cool lanai was enjoyed until late in the evening. Lieutenant Rayner had as his guests Maj. and Mrs. Hamilton Hawkins, Maj. and Mrs. Morton Henry, Judge and Mrs. Whitney of Honolulu, Capt. and Mrs. Kerr T. Charles Haverkamp, Lieut. Clyde Selleck.

John William McClellan, the bright six-year-old son of Supervisor and Mrs. W. H. McClellan.

Leck, Lieut. Karl Greenwald, Lieut. Daniel Murphy, Lieut. Amory Cotchett, Lieut. Raymond McQuillin, Lieut. Livingston Watrous and the best.

Mr. Milton Bysart of Monterey, Cal., arrived last week and will be the house-guest of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Pick for a couple of months.

Capt. and Mrs. DeRussy Hoyle, Maj. Henry Butler, Lieut. John Eager, and Lieut. Vincent Erwin had luncheon together at the Moana hotel in town on Saturday.

Mrs. Earl Carnahan was hostess at a very enjoyable "kensington" on Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Frank Albright, Mrs. Hunter Nelson, Mrs. Henry Sheen, Mrs. John S. Loud, Mrs. James Chaney, Mrs. Karl Truesdell, Mrs. Merrill Spalding, Mrs. Jere Baxter, and Mrs. Carl Ballinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sheen have moved to the cavalry post at Castner, where they are occupying the quarters recently vacated by Maj. Morton Henry.

Col. and Mrs. William Banister had as their luncheon guests at the Lanika tea rooms on Saturday afternoon, Maj. and Mrs. Herbert Gibner and Capt. and Mrs. Joseph McMullen.

Sailing for the mainland on Wednesday morning on the Matsonia were Maj. and Mrs. Morton Henry, Captain and Mrs. Jerome Pillow and Capt. and Mrs. Richard Kimball.

Before the 1st Infantry party on last Friday evening Maj. and Mrs. Herbert Gibner entertained at dinner for Col. and Mrs. William Banister, Capt. and Mrs. Paul McCook, Capt. and Mrs. John Richardson and Capt. and Mrs. William Watson. A beautiful bowl of pink oleanders filled the center of the table and candles shaded in dainty pink added much to the pretty appointed table.

Lieut. and Mrs. Philip Thurber had Lieut. and Mrs. David Cain as their dinner and "movie" guests on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Julia Lohman of Fort Shafter has been the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Jewell for several days during the past week.

Mrs. Karl Truesdell was hostess at bridge on Tuesday afternoon for Mrs. Frank Albright, Mrs. T. C. Ballinger, and Mrs. Carl Ballinger.

Lieut. and Mrs. Jacob L. Devers are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a daughter, Frances Lyon Devers, on Friday, July 20.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Jewell gave a most delightful dinner on Tuesday evening. The table was effectively decorated with red geraniums, ferns and shaded candles. The place cards harmonized in coloring and were marked for Mrs. Julia Lohman, Miss Victoria Peck, Mr. Milton Bysart, Lieut. Daniel Murphy, and Dr. and Mrs. Jewell.

Lieut. and Mrs. Archibald Arnold were hosts at a jolly little breakfast on Sunday morning before the polo game for Miss Katherine Treat, Lieut. Clyde Selleck and Lieut. Frank Schroeder.

Mrs. William McCleave was hostess at bridge and tea on Monday afternoon for Mrs. William Banister, Mrs. Ellen Jordan, Mrs. Charles Daly, Mrs. Dennis Currie, Mrs. Herman Erlenkotter, and Mrs. Philip Thurber.

Capt. and Mrs. Harry Lewis are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Lewis' mother and sister, Mrs. and Miss Anderson of Washington, D. C., who arrived from the States on Monday's boat.

Capt. and Mrs. William Holliday are entertaining at dinner this evening for Col. and Mrs. Earl Carnahan, Maj. and Mrs. Hunter Nelson, and Capt. and Mrs. Karl Truesdell.
